Many years ago, there were three mighty gods who were planning the creation of a brand-new world that could keep their most unusual feats and creations. After that, they decided to add an unusual continent, so that all creations could live thus was created the continent of Solum.

The first inhabitants were the plants along with the animals, then the fishes, finally the humans and other creatures. All the gods were amazed at his creations. Therefore, they gathered and decided to gift their most valuable creations, the humans.

The god of strength, Perverus, has given strength to be dominant over adversity. The god of wisdom, Sapier, has bestowed pride for inner and mental growth along with intelligence so that they can master any teaching thus passed to them. Finally, the god of bravery, Virbus, granted the virtue that along with the vigor do not let themselves be so easily subdued or dominated.

After the bestowal of the divine presents, the gods ceased to exist, so that the humans could begin their journeys alone and discover the most unusual creations left by the vast continent of Solum still unknown.
